Maggie Campbell

Executive Director

Greetings! My name is Maggie Campbell and it is my great pleasure to serve as Executive Director for Nurturing Knowledge Schools. This is my 16th year working with the NKS team, and I am so excited to be a part of this family. My passion for helping children, teachers, and parents be life-long learners is woven into my daily work, and I am fully dedicated to ensuring our school community is one of acceptance, anti-bias, and equity.

I knew at an early age I wanted to work with children. I received my Bachelor's degree in Elementary Education and teaching certification from Linfield University in Oregon, and began teaching Kindergarten in McMinnville, OR, in 2003. In Seattle, I worked as a substitute teacher for a year, teaching nearly every subject known, to every grade level. I taught preschool and pre-Kindergarten for several years at Holy Family School on the Eastside, and I was the Director of Youth and Family Programs for the University Family YMCA. I also worked evenings, weekends and summers coaching youth sports.

In 2009, I came across an ad for a Director position with Nurturing Knowledge Schools, and instantly fell in love with the leadership, their philosophy, and the very idea of becoming a part of this rich and welcoming community.

I am a true Pacific Northwesterner, born right here in Seattle, Washington. My wife and I are proud parents to two young daughters. I love adventuring with my little family, am fond of being outdoors, reading, podcasts, puzzles and am a huge Seattle sports fan!

Warmly,

Maggie
